Nankai University

Introduction

Founded in 1919, Nankai University is one of the oldest and most well-respected public universities in China, and is the alma mater of China's foundation Prime Minister, Zhou Enlai.

Located in the bustling port city of Tianjin, Nankai is in a hub of economic activity and international trade.

In 2013, Nankai had 2894 overseas students from 82 countries.

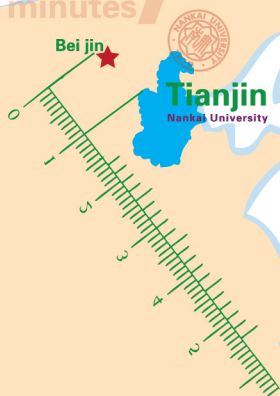

As of 2013, Nankai had developed cooperative relationships with more than 300 universities and research institutes from 45 countries and areas.

Fascinating Tianjin

Tianjin is the third largest city in China and one of four cities under the direct jurisdiction of the central government of the People's Republic of China.

Located only 30 minutes from Beijing by bullet train, Tianjin is not only the economic center of northern China, but also an international trading port and a leader in ecological development.

International Short-term Program

Nankai “Get to Know China” is an international short-term program that provides students with the opportunity to experience Chinese culture at one of China’s top universities.

The program lets students explore Chinese culture and concepts from a unique Chinese perspective. It combines professional development with Chinese language training and culture studies, while leaving time for exploration, relaxation and fun! Additional enrichment courses in Chinese culture are available to interested students. Three weeks in one of China’s most energetic sea-port cities may inspire students to future study and to seek out new career opportunities!

Course

During the first three weeks, classroom instruction by Nankai faculty members will include a series of interdisciplinary workshops. Through these workshops, students will explore unique concepts and perspectives on a variety of China related subjects, and Chinese language training and culture studies are included.

Week One: Chinese History & Culture Workshop

Week Two: Chinese Economy & Business Workshop

Week Three: Chinese Law & Public Policy Workshop

Week Four: Study Tour

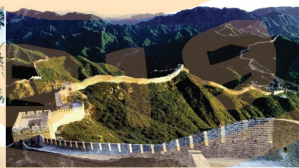

Academic Credit Transfer Information

The academic program consists of 74 contact hours. Upon completion, each student will be presented with a letter of participation confirming actual contact hours.

Study Tour

During the fourth week, students will participate in a study tour of famous historic and scenic sights in Beijing and Xi'an. As the current and former capitals of China, these two cities are rich with historical and cultural significance.

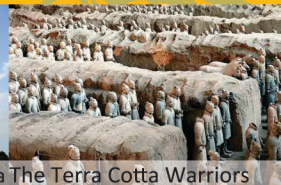

Beijing

Beijing is the capital of the People's Republic of China and one of the most populous cities in the world. The city is the country's political, cultural, and educational center, and home to the headquarters of many of China's largest state-owned companies.

Beijing is home to countless buildings of national historical significance. The city is renowned for its opulent palaces, temples, huge stone walls and gates. The Great Wall, the Summer Palace and the Forbidden City are among Beijing's most well-known cultural sites.

Xi'an

Xi'an, once the capital of eleven Chinese dynasties, is famous throughout the world for its life-sized terra-cotta warriors. The Terra Cotta Warriors are arguably the most significant archaeological discovery of the 20th century and a sight not to be missed by any visitor to China.

Accommodation

Students will be housed in a foreign students' dormitory. Each double occupancy room (2 students per room) comes with bathroom facilities and broadband internet access.

Cost

The program has been designed to minimize out-of-pocket costs after arriving in China. The program fee of RMB 14,000 covers most expenses, including: tuition fee, culture classes, accommodation and study tour.

Please note, students will be responsible for the cost of food, study materials (i.e. Textbooks) and any weekend travel. The program will be canceled if fewer than 15 students register for a given term.

Join the program for free !

Scholarships are available for students from participating partner universities.

Scholarships

Nankai offers scholarships of up to RMB 14,000, covering tuition fees, the study tour and housing to students from partner universities. Please consult with your university's International Program Office (or its equivalent) for the chance to join the program free of charge.
